Website: <http://www.gigmasters.com/Elvis-Impersonator/Travis-Allen/>

Contact Info: The above site is not run by Travis; as far as I know, he doesn't have a personal website because he relies on numerous entertainer booking sites to direct customers to him and doesn't want to compete with them. So... instead of booking through any of those sites and paying their fees, you can contact his manager "GK" directly, and, I think I remember hearing, GK also happens to be his dad. GK's phone is (office) 951-261-9174 or (cell) 951-640-5157. His email is gk@gkhmanagement.com and GK@tallenproductions.com so I recommend sending one email and CC the second address.

Pricing and services:

Travis is a highly regarded Elvis impersonator that frequently performs at receptions for Knotties and 'regular folks' not getting married too. I've never heard a complaint about his actual singing ability so I'd definitely recommend him from that perspective. Keep in mind that you don't necessarily have to have him "perform," you may just want to have him mingle with your guests for photos with Elvis, etc.

My understanding is that he is also an officiant, so if you wanted your wedding performed by 'Elvis', he can provide that service as well.

His fee is $250 which I've read typically includes about 30 minutes of entertainment where he'll sing songs you can select if you have any Elvis favorites, and then he'll mingle and pose for pictures with your guests for another 30 minutes. However, recently (camillejón - Jan 2012) it was posted that his manager encouraged the bride to let her guests know they should tip him. Anyone please correct me if this is wrong or changes. I personally don't think someone being paid $500/hour needs a tip.
